What makes this tour different

CMJ & Shoresh Tours

Background

CMJ South Africa is part of the worldwide CMJ Family. CMJ is an acronym for The Church's Ministry among the Jewish People. It was established in England in 1809 by prominent Christians such as Charles Simeon and William Wilberforce.

CMJ set up mission stations throughout the world. Schools, churches, clinics, hospitals, printing presses and bookshops were established primarily in Europe and the Middle East to help alleviate the suffering of the Jewish people.

CMJ staff were instrumental in combating anti-semitism, and Christians in the British government (many involved with CMJ such as Wilberforce and Shaftesbury) played a key role in the Jewish return to the Land of Israel.

CMJ not only built the Protestant church in the Middle East, Christ Church Jerusalem, but also the first schools, the first houses of industry for job training, and the first hospital with state-of-the-art equipment and medicine, all of which which helped bring modern standards of health, welfare, and education to the area.

CMJ in Israel continues its ministry of being a witness to both Jews and Gentiles of God's love and faithfulness as found in Jesus the Messiah.

Today we express this in many practical ways: supporting and educating local believers, praying for the peace of Jerusalem, combating anti-semitism, teaching Christians about the Jewish Roots of the Christian faith, and proclaiming the return of the King.

For 178 years CMJ has been actively involved in Israel as a witness to the love of God in Yeshua the Messiah.
